

2006 Tennessee Criminal Justice Summit
Charting a Future Course for Criminal Justice in Tennessee

held in the three Regions of Tennessee

Memphis - Fogelman Executive Conference Center, June 12, 2006

Nashville - Doubletree Hotel, June 27, 2006

Knoxville - Hilton Hotel, June 29, 2006

Sponsored by the Tennessee Department of Correction and Tennessee Board of Probation and Parole, with support from the National Institute of Corrections and the Edward Byrne Memorial Assistance Grant

GOALS

The purpose of the 2006 Tennessee Criminal Justice Summit is to chart a future course for criminal justice in Tennessee by:

- Building on the accomplishments of the 2004 Summit;
- Providing a forum for broad participation and input into the development of a shared, statewide vision of criminal justice and corrections in Tennessee;
- Identifying strategies for ongoing criminal justice partnership and collaboration statewide, regionally, and locally;
- Learning about some effective strategies to reduce recidivism that are being implemented throughout the nation and their relevance to criminal justice and corrections in Tennessee; and
- Articulating some of the critical next steps necessary to achieve a vision of success for criminal justice in Tennessee.

AGENDA

8:00 a.m. Registration and Continental Breakfast

9:00 a.m. Plenary Session: Welcome and Introductions;
Overview of the Day

George Little, Commissioner, Tennessee Department of Correction

Charles Traughber, Chair, Tennessee Board of Probation and Parole

Becki Ney, Principal, Center for Effective Public Policy, lead facilitator for the Summit

9:30 Plenary Session: Increasing Public Safety and Reducing Recidivism by Enhancing Offender Success

Bill Woodward, Director, Training and Technical Assistance, Center for the Study and Prevention of Violence, University of Colorado

Evidence-based practices in criminal justice are being implemented in many jurisdictions throughout the country with promising results: increased public safety, reduced recidivism, and more successful offenders. This session will focus on some of the critical ingredients to successful offender management.

10:15 Break

10:30 Plenary Session: Panel Discussion: Charting a Future Course for Criminal Justice in Tennessee

Becki Ney, Moderator; Tennessee Panel

There are many examples of collaborative partnerships and improved criminal justice practices throughout Tennessee. Panelists will discuss some of the strategies they have implemented to address 2004 Summit recommendations, successful criminal justice partnerships they have been involved in, and the future goals and vision they have for criminal justice in Tennessee.

- 11:15 Breakout Groups: Key Criminal Justice Problems in Tennessee: Bringing it to the Local Level
- Participants will break into small groups to reflect on key criminal justice problems in Tennessee and how collaboration might enhance problem solving.
- 12:15 Lunch
- 1:15 p.m. Plenary Session: Collaboration: The Key to Solving Criminal Justice Problems
- Becki Ney*
- This session will focus on the key components of effective collaboration, including the notion of a shared, statewide vision of success.
- 2:00 Breakout Groups: Developing a Vision of Success for Criminal Justice and Corrections in Tennessee
- Participants will break into small groups to consider what they have learned during the earlier plenary sessions and the implication for a future vision of success for criminal justice and corrections in Tennessee.
- 3:15 Break
- 3:30 Plenary Session: Panel Discussion: Report out from Breakout Groups
- Becki Ney, Moderator*
- Each group will be asked to report out the highlights of its breakout group discussions.
- 4:30 Closing Remarks
- George Little, Commissioner, Tennessee Department of Correction*
Charles Traugher, Chair, Tennessee Board of Probation and Parole
- 5:00 Adjourn